Steven L. Butler Memorial Award Fund

On behalf of the ACOE Educational Partnerships Foundation, a Memorial Fund is available to students enrolled in schools operated by the Alameda County Office of Education. The Steve L. Butler Memorial Award Fund has been established in honor of Steve Butler, an ACOE teacher for two decades who was passionate about teaching students who face numerous challenges in their lives. Steve died suddenly in 2007 while training for a triathlon.

It is in dedication to Steve's advocacy for teachers and students, his love of life and his competitive spirit that his colleagues from the Alameda County Teachers Association, California School Employees Association, ACOE and the California Teachers Association strive to build and sustain The Butler Memorial Fund for Alameda County Juvenile Court School students. The amount of the award varies, depending on the student's need. It could go toward buying a book, professional suit for work, membership to a museum, attending a class, conference or workshop, or a myriad of other items and activities. It is the hope and desire of the Awards Committee that the eclectic awards will do for prospective recipients what Steve's personal efforts provided his students – knowing that no two students are alike and addressing their individual needs.
